

CONNECTING RURAL TEXAS TO CLEAN WATER FOR 65 YEARS

We understand the challenges of multiple regulations, short schedules and tight budgets. We know that meeting your community's needs while addressing water issues, like drought, and environmental compliance demands intense dedication. We have worked on multidisciplinary projects throughout Texas and the U.S., and our keen sense of client needs, constraints, and working philosophies will help your project succeed. With over 65 years in the engineering industry, Hanson has a long-standing, proven history of supporting and managing projects for a large contingent of clients, including municipalities, counties, utility groups and other agencies. We've grown over the years, gaining talented engineers, architects, surveyors and environmental professionals. In 2016, we acquired Naismith Engineering Inc., adding Austin, Brownsville and Corpus Christi to our offices, joining Dallas, Fort Worth and Houston in our Texas lineup.
